A Very Unusual Book Reading

EDGAR'S HOUSE The International's Women's Club Kyiv, regularly invites people to talk at their monthly meetings, and on 5 November it was the turn of lawyer and author Alex Frishberg who was asked to read from his novel 'The Steel Barons', and you can rest assured that this vibrant Kyiv character never does anything by halves. Rather than reading from his novel, Alex kept the IWCK members present entertained by staging a theatrical performance of excerpts from his enthralling novel based around his real life experience of doing business in Ukraine in the early 90s.
